IT Governance Advisory Services

Headed by Steve Romero, ITG Practice Lead, BOT International offers ITG advisory services provided by internationally-recognized experts designed to give you information, experience and support at each phase of your ITG strategy.

Unbiased, Customer First Advocacy

Unlike consulting organizations or software vendors who have inherent conflicts of interest and who do not make expert resources available without a tie-in to a substantial purchase, our ITG practice uniquely places your success as our first priority. This gives you an unprecedented level of access to subject matter experts and confidence that comes from a top-tier advocacy that is focused on maximizing your value, lowering your risk and helping you successfully achieve your business results.

ITG 010: IT Governance Workshop

Duration: One day, Price: $3,995

IT Governance has become a part of the vernacular of every major Information Technology organization today. Despite its pervasiveness, it is widely misunderstood. The lack of consensus in regard to its definition has led to varying opinions and views of the purpose of IT Governance and how it is practiced. The result is that very few enterprises are realizing the full potential, power and promise of this essential business discipline. The ubiquitous nature of technology has immeasurably increased its importance to enterprise success. Studies from renowned research organizations such as MIT CISR, Gartner and Forrester have shown that companies with defined and structured IT Governance outperform companies lacking these governance conventions. This workshop provides organizations with a comprehensive understanding of the IT Governance discipline and domain.

ITG 020: Introduction to Enterprise PPM Workshop

Duration: One day, Price: $3,995

Enterprise Project and Portfolio Management (PPM) is one of the most critical business processes in organizations today. PPM delivers the means for C-levels to meet enterprise goals and strategies by providing the people, processes and technology insights necessary to steer the enterprise ship. This one-day workshop provides an in-depth PPM orientation designed to provide an understanding of this critical strategic business process. This understanding enables organizations to accurately gauge their PPM proficiency, recognize their PPM needs, and determine their next steps.

ITG 030: Advanced Enterprise PPM Workshop

Duration: Three days, Price: $9,995

Though recent analyst research shows that 75% of enterprises have established PPM, very few organizations are realizing the full potential of this critical strategic business process and PPM processes are generally immature. This workshop is intended for organizations desiring to evolve and progress existing Project and Portfolio Management (PPM) business processes.

ITG 040: Establishing Meaningful Metrics Workshop

Duration: One day, Price: $3,995

Many organizations encounter difficulties in gaining process acceptance and adherence. Effective process management and process governance is critical to the success of any business process effort. This workshop provides a high-level understanding of the distinct phases of process design and implementation and a detailed discussion of the ongoing process management and process governance required to ensure the continued success of business processes.
